Brief History of Web Application Development

- First applications – form-like
 - HTML to render simple pages
- Common Gateway Interface (CGI) to extend server side
 - Dynamically rendered HTML
- JavaScript moved some processing out to browser
- Today full-featured object oriented languages for server side
 - C#, Java, PHP, Ruby...
- Little advance in client side until MSXML introduced
 - Cascading Style Sheets, XSLT
 - AJAX becomes standard for delivery of data to client, but...
 - Competing browsers lead to problems keeping up with versions
 - Chaos of incompatible frameworks vying for dominance of client space
